Dry Weather Brings 3 Calls for Grass Fires

A grass fire back of the William J. Maleek grocery brought a call for the Antioch fire department Wednesday morning at 11:45 o'clock.

Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock the department was called to the Homer La Plant place on south Main street when sparks from a bonfire spread to an oat field, burning about a ton of straw.

Half an hour later another call was received, to Mrs. Emma Selter's home on Grass Lake road, for a grass fire.

Because of the prevailing dry conditions, the co-operation of all residents and visitors in this area is being asked by Fire Chief L. R. Van Patten.

"We will especially appreciate it if people will make sure that bonfires are watched, and if care is taken to see that matches and cigarettes are extinguished before being thrown away," Van Patten said.

Landrocks Leave to Make Home Near Tampa, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Landrock, who for 15 years were proprietors of Landrock's on the west side of Channel lake, are leaving today for Tampa, Fla., near which city they plan to make their home temporarily.

Because of Mrs. Landrock's health, they have disposed of their business interests.

Frank and Frieda Mikoleit have taken over the operation of their place, now known as the Channel Lake tavern.

The Landrocks have made many friends in this region since they came here from Chicago, and the news of their change of residence has been received with genuine regret.

Velma Smith, 11, Stricken Suddenly

Dies Early Sunday at Home; Efforts to Save Her Prove Futile

Stricken suddenly ill during the night, Velma Faye Smith, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Smith of Channel Lake, died at her home early Sunday morning.

Dr. I. L. Breakstone of Antioch and the Antioch Rescue squad, administered oxygen and employed artificial respiration, but were unable to save her.

At a coroner's inquest held Sunday in the Strang Funeral home, it was stated that, while Velma had not been feeling well for a few days, it had not been believed that it would be necessary to place her under a doctor's care. Her death was thought to have been the result of a complication of illnesses, including a heart ailment and pneumonia.

Velma was a student at Channel Lake Grade school, and her death was a shock to her schoolmates, as well as to members of the family and many sympathizing friends.

Survivors include two sisters, Verna Lee, 8, and Virginia Ann, 3, as well as her two grandfathers, John Smith of Bristol, Wis., and Stephen Mattes of Chicago.

Services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Strang chapel, with burial in Hillside cemetery.

The Observer

After considerable thoughtful consideration, we've come to the conclusion that a newspaper office is a place where:

(A) You can never find a pencil when you need it.

(B) You can't find one even if you don't need it.

(C) A cross between an information bureau, a three-ringed circus and a madhouse.

(D) Aggravating.

(E) But even after years and wear and tear, there's still something about it.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Nielsen and sons, Freddy and Teddy, of Lake Villa spent a week in Iron River, Mich., at Sunset Lodge. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Anderson of Waukegan. Fishing was enjoyed and they returned home Saturday.

The Antioch Rescue squad was summoned to Deep Lake to administer oxygen to a heart attack patient Sunday. Dr. W. F. Kraemer of Antioch was the physician in charge.

Mrs. Blanche Kiefer, who has been residing in Highland Park during recent months, is leaving to spend several months at the Henry Yopp home in Livingston, Mont. From there she will go to Eureka, Mont., where she will visit the Lewis Yopp family.

Antioch News Enters on Its 59th Year This Week

The Antioch News with this issue enters upon its fifty-ninth year of service to the lakes region. This is also the first anniversary issue in 18 years that has not been turned out under the watchful guidance of the late H. B. Gaston, its editor and publisher from 1926 until his death on Nov. 18, 1943.

Founded in 1886 by J. J. Burke, the News has had four changes of editorship during a period of nearly 60 years. In 1901 the paper was sold by Burke to A. B. Johnson, who published it for 20 years before disposing of his interests to Horan, Wood and Woodhead.

Wood and Woodhead later turned over their interests to Horan, from whom it was purchased by "H. B." who had for eight years previously published the Richmond Gazette, selling it to A. L. Johnson a month prior to the date when he assumed the guidance of the News.

The Antioch News, which has in turn recorded the reminiscences of the "Boys in Blue," the happenings of the Spanish-American War and the story of the part played by young men of this region in the First World War, enters its fifty-ninth year at a time when the progress of the Second World War appears increasingly favorable for this country. Youths from Antioch region are at this moment literally scattered throughout the world in the service of their country, and to more than 500 of them copies of the Antioch News go out from this office every Thursday afternoon.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS CALLED TO CHANNEL LAKE THIS AFTERNOON

A grass fire on lots owned by Nicholas Zeien, on Lake avenue, Channel lake, brought a call for the fire department this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The blaze was believed to have been spread by sparks from a bonfire.

Anticipate Big Crowd at Rescue Squad's Dance

Annual Benefit to Be Held in Channel Lake Pavilion Next Thursday

The Antioch Rescue squad's annual benefit dance, which last year drew more than 1,000 to the Channel Lake pavilion, is expected to be equally successful next Thursday evening, Aug. 17, when it will again be held in the pavilion.

Sandwiches and other refreshments will be served, and there will be other features, as in the past.

Members of the squad will be present in uniform, and wives of members will assist in preparing home-made sandwiches like those which last year score a distinct "hit" with hundreds of those who attended.

Howard Gaston's six-piece orchestra will play for the dancing, and Delores Gerken will sing.

Proceeds Aid Work

All proceeds of the benefit are to be used for maintenance and operating expenses of the squad.

The squad members (all of whom are Red Cross trained) donate their time and services to give first aid in all emergencies for which they are summoned, throughout the lake region.

They are on call 24 hours a day, and their timely aid in alleviating the misfortunes of accident victims has frequently drawn praise from physicians here and in other cities.

Besides answering emergency calls, they accompany the Antioch fire department on calls outside the village limits, and "stand by" at major fires, and at large public gatherings in the village, in the event first aid is required.

They have figured in a number of rescues in the past, and have also been instrumental in recovering the bodies of drowning victims.

Their mobile unit includes a truck and a quantity of valuable equipment, which is constantly being improved and augmented.

To Guarantee Opportunity

Although war has forced this nation to adopt many principles of those governments which seek domination of their peoples, Americans firmly believe that our Constitution is the best instrument yet developed for reconciling government by majority with the rights of individuals.

But if our Constitutional liberty is to be maintained in postwar, certain current tendencies must be reversed.

One principle rigidly to be maintained is that the Constitution be amended only in the manner provided in the Constitution itself—never by executive and legislative fiat or judicial interpretation. The tendency to take powers from the states and concentrate them in Washington should be abandoned; Congress should abolish the power of bureaucrats to control the lives and activities of citizens by means of directives.

The founders of the Constitution proposed to guarantee opportunity, as well as liberty, to the individual. Opportunity will prove a reality in postwar only if we establish conditions that result in jobs and better living standards. We must understand that over any period no group can be prosperous unless other groups also prosper. We must see the necessity of encouraging competition, of preventing monopoly and special privileges for management, labor, agriculture or investor.

The sound formula for national progress is the power and dignity of the free man, shaping his destiny by his own self-reliant efforts.

Airborne

In discussing "The Impact on Business of the Transportation of Property by Air," K. N. Merritt, of the Railway Express Agency, feels there is a bright future for business and industrial concerns planning to use air express for distribution of postwar products.

The Army is returning many of the planes taken from the commercial airlines for war purposes. They are being converted to civilian use. This will mean better and more frequent schedules, says Mr. Merritt, and with a decrease in production of certain war materials and increased space available, distribution facilities are constantly increasing.

The business man who has been reading a lot about the advantages of shipping his products by air, will have a chance to experiment in new and distant markets—he can begin to lay his plans to meet postwar competition. As an example of how air shipments can be used for entirely new purposes, and thereby create entirely new business, Mr. Merritt cited the conventions. Most of such traffic is flown in planes which carry mail and express only.

A study by Wayne University on fruit and vegetables as air cargo, bears out Mr. Merritt's ideas. Such shipments await production of cargo aircraft for economical transport. According to the survey, the potential air traffic in fruits and vegetables alone at 15 cents a ton-mile is approximately six times the total of all air cargo express in 1941; at 7 cents, 80 times; at 5 cents, 233 times; and at 3 cents, 968 times the total air express volume in 1941.

Thus do we see in the making previously unheard of opportunities that will provide new avenues of employment after the war.

Something Really New

Over 17,000,000 American homes are heated today by stoves.

For about as many centuries as we know, mankind's primary wants have been: Palatable food, a comfortable mate, shelter and bodily warmth.

As to heat, Benjamin Franklin observed that there had been almost no progress for 2,000 years and put together him famous idea in home heating.

But at last a new stove that is really a furnace is here—a stove that one can forget for a week in moderate winter weather—that burns up its own smoke—that whacks one-third off the coal bill for a starter—that can heat an entire bungalow snugly—that will cost less than a hundred dollars—that is ready for postwar use.

This new departure in heating embraces the most radical and revolutionary principles that have ever been advanced for economical comfort for the great bulk of American homes. It has been developed by the bituminous coal industry's best technical minds, co-operating with leading United States manufacturers of heating equipment.

Seven grand land divisions are now regarded as continents—Europe, Asia, Africa, South America, North America, Australia and Antarctica. Greenland, being entirely separated by water from North America and being much smaller than any of the continents named, is often referred to as an island-continent, although a few geographers classify it as a separate continent.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS—THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY

How this "hub of transportation" fits into your plans of tomorrow

From north and south, from east and west, America's lines of transportation come together in the central area of Northern Illinois.

Converging here, are twenty-two great trunk-line railroads and seven airlines that reach every part of the United States. A network of highway transportation covers the area, and transport by water is available on Lake Michigan and the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Waterway.

Yes, manufacturers in Northern Illinois are fortunate in having unexcelled transportation. It is faster, costs less because they ship the shortest distance for national distribution. From this area, products can be delivered to nearly one-half the nation's population in forty-eight hours or less.

Our Secret Weapon

IN HIS allegory, "The Pilgrim's Progress," Bunyan tells how Christian, when going through the valley of the shadow of death, found enemies that were immune to the sword with which he had vanquished Apollyon, so "he was forced to put up his sword, and betake himself to another weapon called 'All-prayer.'" When the fiends "were come even almost at him, he cried out with a most vehement voice, 'I will walk in the strength of the Lord God; so they gave back, and came no further.'" Christian's sword was of no avail against the blasphemies whispered so subtly in his ear that he mistook them for his own thoughts, but the weapon of prayer brought him safely through the ordeal.

One who lived in England during the worst of the blitz, speaking of the wonderful protection experienced by those who sought the way of escape through prayer, said it was difficult to understand unless one were there, but in their darkest hour it seemed the whole nation lived in prayer! Thus did those materially unprepared for war find themselves equipped with a secret weapon of defense. So spiritually empowered were they with courage and a consciousness of nearness to God that they could prove to the world it is possible for civilization to survive the barbarous onslaught of savage modern warfare.

Spiritual power accompanies understanding now as it did when Jesus sent forth seventy of his students to preach and heal, telling them, "Behold, I give unto you power . . . over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you" (Luke 10:19). No weapon of the carnal mind can withstand the Christ-power operative today through enlightened prayer. In the light of Truth the carnal mind, which "is enmity against God" (Romans 8:7), is seen to be a lie, a deception which vanishes before the Mind of Christ.

The rulers of the darkness of deception hold no sway in the realm of light. Their effort, therefore, is to prevent the use of our secret weapon of prayer. Unerring in aim, instant in action, infinite in range, and ever available, prayer is as irresistible in attack as it is invulnerable in defense. Nor can the enemy prevent its use by the Christian soldier. One must guard against resistance of the carnal mind to his use of prayer. Evil would disarm before it attacks, but the very conflict arms the righteous and girds him for victory.

Jesus taught us the use of our secret weapon when he said (Matthew 6:6): "When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly." Writing of this secret but effective prayer in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says (p. 15), "The closet typifies the sanctuary of Spirit, the door of which shuts out sinful sense but lets in Truth, Life, and Love." She continues: "In the quiet sanctuary of earnest longings, we must deny sin and plead God's allness. We must resolve to take up the cross, and go forth with honest hearts to work and watch for wisdom, Truth, and Love." And she says further, "The Master's injunction is, that we pray in secret and let our lives attest our sincerity."

Those who have learned to use this weapon of prayer are winning priceless victories. Through prayer, the risen Christ comes again through doors which fear has closed, with the sublime message of triumph, "Peace be unto you."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Prevent Erosion

Forests build up a thick layer of decayed leaves, twigs, etc., under which there is a dense mat of fine roots anchoring trees, shrubs, and herbs. The rain must first saturate the crown foliage, then the understory foliage, and finally the thick mat of humus. All this retards runoff so that erosion is inhibited and a steady supply of clear, filtered water is fed into the forest streams. Forest trees consume huge quantities of water through the roots. This also reduces the amount of water which would otherwise run off too quickly.

Remove Spots

Clothes with grease spots should be washed if the construction makes it all possible because grease is a moth-eaten material to a hungry moth. Children's coats, dresses, leggings, snow-suits and other outdoor wearing apparel need careful inspection before being put away. In washing wool or part-wool clothes of this type, always use lukewarm water and just enough soap to make a three-inch suds—no more. Wash each piece separately to avoid having colors run into each other. Buttons, buckles, and trimmings should be removed before laundering.

Pirate Courageous

The pirate Blackbeard had great personal courage. It took five pistol wounds and 20 sword wounds for Lieutenant Maynard to down him in the historic fight off Ocracoke, N. C.

Early Armored Vehicles

For some time prior to World War I, marines used early forerunners of our present day armored vehicles . . . usually a reconstructed pleasure car sheathed in light armor plate.

Farm Income

Farm income continued to be affected by inflation after the Armistice in 1918 and the deflationary movement did not start until after farm income reached a new high peak in the first postwar year of 1919, with an increase of 133.7 per cent over the prewar level of 1913. The deflationary movement did not begin until 1920 and the full brunt of it was not felt until 1921.

Flavor and smell are more closely related than most people realize. If one holds one's nose, for example, an apple tastes much like an onion.

FOUR YEARS AGO, HANS WAS IN OUR SHOES

HANS is a German. Four years ago, he felt the way many of us feel today. He thought the war was as good as won.

He had reason to think so. Far more reason than we have. France was his. England was bloody after Dunkerque. The German Army seemed invincible.

But the war wasn't almost over. And now it is our armies that are on the march. It is our bombers blasting German cities. Victory is in our grasp. It's up to us to see that we don't let it slip through our fingers the way Hans did.

Most of us know that this is the military crisis of this war—the time when our fighting men must give everything they have, not once in a while but hour after hour—day after day.

But this alone is not enough. The lives of brave men are not enough. Money is needed too.

For this is the financial crisis of the war just as surely as it is the military crisis. Millions of dollars' worth of equipment is being destroyed. The money to replace it must come from us, quickly.

If every last one of us here at home will try to match the constant, day-to-day drive of the men who fight our battles, we'll raise that money.

The way to do it is to put every cent we can possibly invest into U.S. War Bonds. Not some of us. All of us. Not once in a while during a drive, but regularly.

Can we do the job that Hans couldn't do? It's up to you.

And here are 5 more reasons for buying Extra War Bonds!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

FRANK WHITFIELD'S ATTEND WEDDING OF THEIR GRANDDAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitfield, Lake Marie, attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Jeanette Schwarz, of Gibson, N. Y., and Sgt. Lawrence E. Dilg, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dilg, of Hewlett, N. Y., Saturday, July 15, at 4 p. m.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwarz of Gibson, formerly of Lake Marie and Chicago.

The ceremony took place in Woodmere Methodist church, of which both the bride and bridegroom are members, with the Rev. Paul Bolter officiating.

A gold heart-shaped pin which her grandmother had worn at her wedding, adorned the bride's hair.

Her ivory satin gown had a sweet-heart neckline, long sleeves and a train. Her finger-tip-length veil of illusion was edged with lace which had belonged to her mother. White gladioli arranged in a cascade effect formed her bouquet.

Her sister, Mrs. E. J. Jenner of Douglass, L. I., was matron-of-honor; Miss Ruth Borst of Valley Stream was maid-of-honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Mildred Schwenn of White Plains, N. Y.; Peggy Walsh, Woodmere, N. Y.; and Brenda Smith, Redbanks, N. J. The bride's little brother, Dick, acted as ring bearer.

Walter Dilg attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Van Pelt Brower, Theodore Sprague and Ernest Jenner.

After a reception in the Garden City hotel on Long Island, Sat. and Mrs. Dilg left on a honeymoon trip to the Berkshires, after which they will make their home in Louisville, Ky., where Sgt. Dilg is stationed at Fort Knox.

The bride is a graduate of Katharine Gibbs school, New York; Sgt. Dilg attended New York university before entering the service 2½ years ago.

Mrs. Crandall also enclosed a third version of the poem, "The Amphibious Man," published some months ago in the News of the Boys column. A second version was received a few weeks ago.

The progress of the war, or at least, of the amphibious forces' part in it, can almost be traced in additional verses which have been picked up as this poem circulates and the "poor orphan sailor," "the gosh without a ship," records therein how he finds his duties and his woes multiplying.

Pvt. Harold P. Christensen has been moved from Seattle, Wash., to Camp Hazan, Calif.

Cpl. Lewis J. Burcham, formerly in New Mexico, sends in his new address, in Charleston, S. C.

Robert E. Story, San Francisco Fleet postoffice, has been promoted to Carpenter's mate second class.

"Bellbottom" Dean C. Hagen, care of Fleet post office, San Francisco, sounds a faintly nostalgic note, and who could blame him?

"My address has been changed. Have been receiving the papers, but they have been late. Sure enjoy reading them—takes our minds right back on Main street for a while. The LST boys have been sort of unheard of, but we are doing our best. Can't say much about it, but some day will have some real stories to tell.

"I suppose things are really popping back on Main street again, now that it's summer. Sure wish I could see the Channel Lake pavilion for just one Saturday night.

"If you happen to see Otto Klass, tell him hello for me.

"Have a graveyard watch tonight, so I must get a little sack duty."

we would hate to try that one ourselves!) decorate the stationery on which George E. Hull, S 2/c, sends greetings from the navy fire department there. George is, he reports, another of those lads who used to be front-page-glancers when they were back in the old home town, but who now reads every line in the Antioch News, and then pass it on to their buddies. (Ed. Note: 2. This sort of thing has us faintly seared. Looks like we're going to have to really hoe in, in order to stand that inspection.)

Pfc. Lester F. Chinn has been appointed Technician Fifth grade. It has been announced by Major W. S. Biggs, commanding officer of the 29th Engineers Combat battalion, 7th Detachment Special Troops XVIII corps, stationed at Camp Butler, N. C. T/5 Chinn is the husband of Mrs. Carolyn Chinn, Antioch.

JAMES MAPLETHORPE'S UNIT CELEBRATES 200TH MISSION

A program of the "200th Mission" celebration of the Ninety-third Bombardment group (II), of which Col. Flegel is commander, has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maplethorpe from their son, Sgt. James E. Maplethorpe, who is completing his second year overseas this month.

The celebration included addresses by Col. Jack W. Wood, Major-General James P. Hodges and Lieutenant-General James H. Doolittle, with an introductory talk by Lieutenant-Colonel Harvey P. Barnard, Jr.

Movies, dancing, a baseball game and a bicycle race were other features of the celebration.

Sgt. Maplethorpe has two brothers in the service: Arthur, Jr., F 2/c, care of Fleet post office, San Francisco; and Pvt. C. P. Maplethorpe, Fort Jackson, S. C.

Word has been received that Lloyd Murphy of Burlington, Wis., son of the former Dorothy Lasco and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lasco, former Antioch residents who are now living in Kenosha, has been killed in action.

Murphy, who served in the Marines for eight years, was at Pearl Harbor at the time it was bombed.

Survivors include a brother, now in action in France, and a sister, at Burlington.

HOME CANNED PEACHES DELICIOUS WHETHER CLING OR FREE-STONE

Clingstone peaches are excellent, but a great many persons prefer the flavor of freestone fruit and also find it somewhat less troublesome to prepare for canning. Whether cling or freestone, good raw peaches make good canned ones, provided they are canned right, but right canning can do nothing for greenish, bitterish, poorly flavored fruit.

Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company, advises those who can peaches for the first time, and those whose canned peaches are below par, to select tree-ripened fruit, when possible, and sort it for size, color, and condition before washing and peeling it.

Skins may be stripped from some well-ripened peaches after they have been scalded in boiling water about a minute and then dipped in cold water, but the general run of them require other methods of peeling. The lye method, while practical when a large quantity is to be canned, requires skill. To lye peel, put four tablespoons concentrated lye in an enamel or granite kettle. Add two gallons water and heat to boiling. Put peaches in a basket and hold in the boiling lye from thirty to sixty seconds, then wash immediately in cold water. Rinse through several waters to remove all skins and all traces of lye. The fruit will darken if left in lye too long or if not well rinsed.

Usually, paring with a knife is the most practical way of peeling. The peaches should be washed clean and drained before peeling. After peeling, the fruit should be cut in half, and the stones discarded. Freestone fruit has better flavor and nicer, cleaner appearance if the red fibers are cut or scraped from the cavities.

Dropping the peeled peaches into weak salt-vinegar water (one tablespoon each to one gallon of water) helps prevent discoloring. They should not be left in the water longer than thirty or forty minutes and must be well rinsed before canning.

Clingstone peaches are prepared for canning by removing the skins by one of the methods described above. Clings may be halved (before peeling) by cutting around the peach with a sharp knife, beginning at the stem end and following the crease. After cutting, hold the peach with both hands and twist in opposite directions. This pulls one side away from the stone. Use a regular peach-pitting spoon, a teaspoon, or a knife to remove the stone from the other half of the peach. Peel the halves by scalding, by the lye method, or by paring with knife. If preferred, the peach may be peeled and then halved by cutting around the stone with knife. The easiest way to remove the flesh from the stone is to cut it in wedge-shaped slices.

Miss Kimbrough recommends hot packing and processing in a hot-water bath canner. Here are her two favorite recipes: (Use the longer cooking and processing time for clings and other very fine peaches.) Method I. Make a sirup of 1 or 2 parts sugar to 1 of water, depending upon the amount liked and the amount available. Add peaches, a few at a time, and simmer until hot through (4 to 10 minutes). Pack into hot jars, layers overlapping, cavity side down. Cover with sirup in which peaches were cooked. Process (cook in jar) 10 to 20 minutes in hot-water bath. Can left-over sirup for pudding or ice cream sauce.

Method II. Add from 1 to 1½ cup sugar and one cup boiling water to one gallon prepared peaches. Cook gently until peaches are hot through and sugar dissolved (10 to 20 minutes). Pack and process as instructed above. If there isn't enough liquid to cover peaches in jar, add boiling water after they are packed.

If one is short of sugar, a sirup may be made by boiling two cups white corn sirup, two cups sugar, one cup water, and one-eighth teaspoon salt together five minutes. Honey may be used instead of sugar but it changes the flavor, and sometimes the color, of the fruit. From three-quarters to one cup sirup is usually needed for one quart of peaches. The fruit should be well covered with liquid. (If one runs out of sugar, peaches may be canned with plain boiling water. They keep just as well that way but do not have as good flavor.)

Once fine fruit is selected, carefully prepared and processed right, canning success is assured if jars and caps are used according to the manufacturers' instructions. These instructions will be found on printed leaflets packed in every carton.

MAKE YOUR OWN CANNING EQUIPMENT

Be determined to do your part toward saving food, canning equipment or no canning equipment. Don't glibly use the shortage of equipment as an excuse for not getting busy and filling those pantry shelves with jars of non-rationed food, put up just the way your family likes it best.

You will do well to follow the advice of Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director for Ball Brothers Company. To all who lament the lack of canning conveniences she suggests: "It is true that a skilled workman requires good tools but when he can't buy what he needs, he makes the best use of what he has and makes what he hasn't."

A few of Miss Kimbrough's suggestions for home-made canning equipment are illustrated in the photograph above. They are:

1. A lard can to use as a water-bath canner. A pail, sirup bucket, wash boiler, or any other container in which water can be boiled, will serve, provided it is twelve or more inches deep.

2. Funnel. This was made from a No. 10 tin can.

3. A rack or platform to fit in the bottom of the canner. Make by tacking strips of odorless wood together.

4. Coal tongs (part of fire set) make good jar lifter.

5. Strong string looped (slip hitch) around neck of jar. Use when neither jar lifter nor tongs can be found.

7. Wire basket to hold the jars while they are in the canner. Made from a scrap of wire mesh. (Poultry wire will do.)

7. Wooden paddle for stirring apple butter, chili sauce, etc. Whittled from hard wood. Wooden spoons can be made in same manner.

This year the government is releasing more metal for the manufacture of canning equipment. Production and distribution may make it unnecessary for the housewife to assemble home-made equipment, but it can be done and done easily.

Double-Duty Outfit Is Chic for Farm and Saves War Bond Dollars

More and more women and girls will help on the home front this summer by joining the crop corps. The problem of practical clothing for farm work is solved by these overalls of sturdy denim. They are smoothly cut, and can be worn either with or without a shirt. Do your share for victory by making them yourself and buying more War Bonds with your money saved. A suitable pattern may be obtained at your local store.

U. S. Treasury Department

Curls From Moisture

When a thin section of wood (about ¼ to ½ inch thick) is moistened with water on one end-grain face, the piece will begin to curl away from the moist side. This is due primarily to the force produced by swelling of the wood fibers on the wet side. If half the length of a strip 12 inches long is treated with a good water-repellent solution which resists the penetration of water, that portion of the wood will remain straight while the untreated half will curl.

Wash Separately

To be on the safe side with colored accessories, always wash each color separately, and quickly, in cool suds. When washing single garments, use a wash basin or small container rather than a big tub. That conserves hot water, and serves as a reminder to use soap without waste and only in proportion to the amount of water.

Price Rises

Despite the greater increase in the supply during the 1938-1943 period than in the 1913-1918 period, the rise in the prices of farm products after the outbreak of the present war was nearly as great as during the First World War. In 1943, the price level of farm products was 97.9 per cent higher than in 1938. This compares with a price increase of 100 per cent from 1913 to 1918.

High Recovery

Official figures compiled by the war and navy departments show that the death rate from wounds from Pearl Harbor until March 31 of this year was only 3.1 per cent; in the last war the rate was 7.6 per cent.

Flat Tires

Eleven million flat tires occurred in 1942—an increase of 1,500,000 over 1941.

To Replan City

Wichita, Kan., whose population has more than doubled since 1920, will be replanned completely in the next two years. The city planning commission will study development of outlying areas, streets, parks and parkways, improvement of sewerage and drainage facilities, new subdivision regulations, zoning and transportation, according to the International City Managers association.

Old Quebec

Quebec spreads majestically over and around the 333-foot promontory of Cape Diamond. It stands on the north bank of the St. Lawrence river, 300 miles up from the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where the river narrows sharply above its St. Charles tributary and the Isle of Orleans.

Absorb Odors

Apples must not be stored with potatoes and other root crops as they absorb unpleasant odors when stored with other foods. Celery is also inclined to absorb odors, especially from cabbage and turnips. Onions, squash, and pumpkins should be stored in a dry place at a temperature around 60 degrees.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army."
"That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was breakin' in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with."
"Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. For nearly two years this entire industry has been working night and day producing nothing but alcohol for the government's program."

"Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that has been."
